

Answers without explanation

2000 Fall 3. Bayesian Games

(a) The only equilibrium is that Jim and both types of Jules always choose to testify.

(b) No. Jules cannot successfully convince Jim that Jules will not lie when the truth is that evidence is not thrown out.

2000 Fall 4. Repeated Competition

(a) omitted.

(b) This problem is unsolvable now.